

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An outboard motor with an undercover forming a part of an engine space is provided. The undercover includes a left lower cover and a right lower 5 cover. The left and right lower covers are made from resin. To prevent the undercover from affecting the appearance, a plurality of resin reinforcing frame members is integrally fixed to inside surfaces of the left and right lower covers.